

MONTANA'S BEEF SUPPLY ENTIRELY CLEANED UP.

Head of Large Tacoma Packing Concern Says There Are Practically No Cattle West of the Corn Belt and Declares Australia Can Only Supply Portion of What Is Needed in California and Southwest.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
TACOMA, May 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Twenty-seven carloads of Montana cattle arriving yesterday are said to clean up Montana's present available cattle supply. Montana grazing lands, like those in the Southwest, have been largely divided into smaller farms. John Frye, one of the two large Tacoma-Seattle packers, denies he has cornered the Pacific Northwest beef market. He has only been buying months ahead to maintain a viable supply.
Frye sees no indication of a viable price. He says:
"The importation of Australian meat will afford little relief for the entire country at San Francisco would wait only a few days. Besides the meat is frozen, and a consumer will eat it if he can find a substitute. It is inferior to fresh beef and ought to be sold only during the season. By reason of its inferiority it sells for less than the domestic product."
"Australia is not in a position with frozen beef to do much to relieve American markets. While the United States is entering the summer season, Australia is beginning her winter. All that country can send will not be a drop in the bucket against the demand in the United States or even the Pacific Coast. There are practically no cattle west of the corn belt. The eastern shortage reaches 30 per cent."
The Southern Pacific and other Hartman roads announce a material reduction by trainload on cattle from California and the Southwest to the Yakima, Kittitas and other Washington valleys for feeding purposes. This will help Puget Sound and save southern cattle where feed is scarce.

QUESTIONS BY DEMOCRATS FOR BANKERS TO ANSWER.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
WASHINGTON, May 26.—The Senate Banking and Currency Committee began its investigation of what is the matter with the nation's currency system and how its defects should be remedied, late today, when a list of questions to be sent to bankers and financial experts was approved and prepared for immediate distribution.
Senator Nelson, Republican member of the Senate Committee on Banking and Currency, introduced a bill today proposing a system of secured currency for national banks, under which the banks of the country could, if necessary, issue emergency currency to the total amount of $100,000,000.
The bill would give banks authority to issue the new notes to an amount not greater than the difference between their present bond-secured currency and their total capital. The new notes would constitute a "first and preferred lien" upon all of the assets of the bank by which they were issued.
To restrict the use of the new currency to emergency, the Nelson bill proposes a tax of 4 per cent on the new notes, increasing to 10 per cent in five months.

The questions, summarized for the bankers to answer, follow:
"What are the essential defects of our banking and currency system?
"What purposes are to be attained by an improved system?
"What national banks continue to have a bond-secured currency, and should present reserve requirements for such banks be changed?
"Should elastic currency be authorized, and if so, how and to what extent?
"Should a tax be laid on the currency graduated to the volume of volume issued by a reserve association, if such existed, or with the length of time outstanding?
"Should there be a central association with branches, or reserve association, with or without a central bank?
"Should such association have a geographical territory and exercise its reserve functions there exclusively, or should it be a national association to choose which near associations they should join, disregarding fixed territory?
"Should state banks or trust companies be stockholders in such associations, and under what conditions?
"What should be the minimum capital stock, and what amount to each bank?
"Should directors of such associations be elected?
"What should be the general nature of business of such associations?
"Should it loan directly to member banks with or without collateral security, with interest equal for all the public and subject to weekly changes, and should reserve associations be permitted to deal with each in purchase and sale of paper, exchange gold and securities?
"Should government deposits be withdrawn from banks and placed with such associations, if so, how?
"Should a national bank to keep reserve with the association to which it belongs except that in its vaults or should it be allowed to use other associations, and if so how much?

"Should a reserve association be required to maintain a reserve within its deposits?
"Should liability of each member bank be limited to its stock subscription?
"Should reserve associations do business with banks other than members and of what character?
"Should national banks be permitted upon payment of a commission to loan their credit by accepting bills arising out of the ordinary course of commerce, and should reserve associations be permitted to deal in these acceptances in transactions with banks or other associations?
"Should there be a limit to such acceptances, and what limit?
"What dividends should associations be permitted to pay their banks and by what method?
"What is your opinion of the plan of the National Monetary Commission?"

SENATOR WORKS HAS MANY PROTESTS AGAINST NOMINATION FOR POSTMASTER AT SACRAMENTO.
(BY FEDERAL WIRELESS LINE TO THE TIMES.)
WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, May 26.—[Special Dispatch.] Serious objections have been made to the nomination of Senator Works for postmaster at Sacramento.

Senator Works has received many telegrams and letters from business men of both Democratic affiliations, protesting that Fox is a stand-patist and reactionary of the most virulent type and a creature of the Southern Pacific Company, who ought not to receive any favors at the hands of a Progressive administration.

Fox received the endorsement of the California delegation and it is said of Franklin Lane, Senator Works said today he would urge Lane to withdraw his endorsement of Fox and thereby relieve the President from an embarrassing situation.

DETROIT ON TRIAL.
Accused San Francisco Officer Is Answer to Charge Made by Bureau Men.
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
SAN FRANCISCO, May 26.—Former Detective Frank Egan, charged with receiving money from business men while a member of the police force, appeared for trial today in the Superior Court before Judge Dunn.

The entire day was given over to selecting jurors. When court closed late in the afternoon seven men had been selected to weigh the evidence.

The only excitement of the entire session occurred late in the afternoon, when Attorney Thomas O'Connor for the defense introduced in an appeal to the court that the jurors selected were professionals, meaning they were in the habit of serving on juries.

The trial of Egan is the first of a series growing out of the alleged relations of certain of the police with a gang of twelve men known as the forty thieves.

Woman Determined to Buy Monticello.

Mrs. Martin Littleton, Wife of Democratic Lawyer of New York, who heads movement to purchase home of Thomas Jefferson as a memorial.

HOLDS JEFFERSON HOME, DEFIES MRS. LITTLETON.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
CHARLOTTESVILLE (Va.) May 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Monticello never has been made for sale," said Jefferson J. Levy, representative of the Thirtieth New York District, who declares he will not part with the property at any price to an individual or to the public. If Congress decides to acquire the former home of Thomas Jefferson the question of its right to do so will be taken to the highest court.

Notwithstanding this declaration, Mrs. Martin W. Littleton, organizer and president of the National Monticello Association, has determined the property shall become a national institution. Her patriotic dream of three years is no less vivid today because of money and determination to retain ownership.

Representative Levy is immensely proud of his ownership of Monticello, and is opposing Mrs. Littleton at every turn. Politics is playing a big part in the struggle, not alone in this State, but in New York, from where all the wires are being pulled. Mrs. Littleton says Monticello should be transformed into a national shrine for Democracy, and have the same care and ownership as Mt. Vernon.

She failed to get a resolution of inquiry through Congress. There is no question that the money could be raised in these matters, both of which Levy would name a price and agree to sell. However, he has an abundance of money and determination to retain ownership.

Japan Hurt, Oot Angry.
law which it may be asserted does not go far enough, but which at any rate is forward in the line that we desire; and any man who is in favor of an alien land law that will sign a referendum against this law is either an idiot or a bought.

Early in the night session Judge Fannigan addressed the veniremen, saying:
"From the time the jury is formed to the return of a verdict the jury will be in the constant order of the Sheriff. Before counsel exercises any of their preemptory challenges I wish to ask each of you who you are sick or whose presence at home for the next week or two is absolutely necessary."

There were no replies.
George A. Newell, the defendant, whose paper, the Iron Ore of Ishpeming, Mich., alleged that Col. Roosevelt "got drunk and that not infrequently" sat at a table with his lawyers, William F. Beiden of Ishpeming, Mich., alleged that Col. Roosevelt "was a drunkard and a scoundrel."

The former President was one of a number occupying seats within the railing.
The spectators only comfortably filled the room, as entrance was barred after all seats had been taken. Judge Richard C. Fannigan, who presided, received a telegram from Minneapolis as follows:

"Don't let this sensational trial continue until I have arrived." The message was turned over to the Chief of Police of Minneapolis, who wired back that Mike was insane and had been arrested.

James R. Pouth of Detroit questioned the veniremen for the plaintiff. The Detroit lawyer made it a point to ask possible jurors as to their acquaintance with the principals in the defendant's case, and about their acquaintances with H. O. Young, who was elected to Congress from the Marquette district as a Republican, but the Progressive candidate, E. Donald, set up a claim in the House that he had a moral right to the election as a large number of persons who wished to vote for him had innocently used erroneously printed ballots. Before a decision was reached at Washington, Young resigned.

Opposing counsel worded the same inquiry differently when asking if a vendorman would be prejudiced against either party to the suit.

"Would the fact that the defendant is a neighbor and a citizen of this community, while the plaintiff is a resident of a distant State, prejudice you against the plaintiff?" was the way, in effect that Mr. Pouth put it. Mr. Beiden would ask:

"Would the fact that one party to this suit is a former President of the United States, while the other is a mere citizen, cause you to give more weight to the statement of one side than to those of the other?"

THERE TO SEE AND HEAR.
Before the case was called the courtroom was half filled with spectators, including many women, mostly seated in the balconies.

The corridors outside were thronged with others anxious to be the first to enter when the doors were opened to the general public. Judge Fannigan announced that none would be admitted after the regular seats had been filled.

Col. Roosevelt, who arrived here early in the day, accompanied by former members of his Cabinet and a number of witnesses, arrived at the Courthouse shortly before the case was called. He drove up in an automobile, and, waiting between two secret service men, entered the courtroom. His arrival was not attended by any demonstration.

The room remained perfectly quiet as Col. Roosevelt entered. He took a chair beside William H. Van Benschoten of New York, one of his lawyers.

WILSON WINCES AT PROTESTS.

Getting Felt For His Own Articles, He Quirms When Manufacturers Recent Deathblow to Their Industries and Criticizes Their Forms of Publicity Used.

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
WASHINGTON, May 26.—President Wilson told the White House correspondents today that he believed the most extraordinary lobby ever gathered by special interests to overcome legislation was now mustered at the capital against the tariff bill.

The President said he had no doubt that a few so-called lobbyists were there on legitimate errands, but he believed the great majority were occupied by a systematic misrepresentation of facts. While the President believes that the "lobby" opposition is concentrated against free sugar and free wool, he is not apprehensive that it will be successful.

The President made it clear that he believed scientific business methods and efficiency would clear the tariff cuts and that with the application of scientific methods Louisiana would not only be able to continue in the sugar industry, but to do so profitably.

WILSON'S STATEMENT.
The President later issued the following statement:
"I think that the public ought to know the extraordinary exertions being made by the lobby in Washington to gain recognition for certain alterations of the tariff bill. Washington has seldom seen so numerous, so industrious or so insidious a lobby. The newspapers are being filled with paid advertisements calculated to mislead the judgment of public men, not only, but also the public opinion of the country itself. There is every evidence that money without limit is being spent to sustain this lobby and to create an appearance of a pressure of public opinion antagonistic to some of the chief items of the tariff bill."

"It is of serious interest to the country that the people at large should have no lobby and be voiceless in these matters. While a body of astute men seek to create an artificial opinion and to overcome the interest of the public for their private profit, it is thoroughly worth the while of the people of this country to take knowledge of this matter. Only public opinion can check and destroy it."

The government in all its branches ought to be relieved from this terrible burden and this constant interruption to the calm progress of debate by the members of the two houses, who would rejoice as much as I would to be released from this undesirable situation."

Representative Hays Says Democrats Will Commit Great Mistake If They Make Question Partisan.
(BY FEDERAL WIRELESS LINE TO THE TIMES.)
WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, May 26.—[Special Dispatch.] Representative E. A. Hays will speak June 26 before the Pennsylvania Bankers' Association in Pittsburgh on the changes that should be made in the American banking and currency system. Hays is ranking member of the House Committee on Banking and Currency and has given much study to the subject. Speaking of prospective legislation Mr. Hays said the Democrats would make a serious mistake if they treated currency reform from a partisan standpoint.

"The currency question," he said, "should be treated as a serious matter and not a partisan one. It is to be hoped that the Democrats will endeavor to bring in a non-partisan bill, for it would be both unwise and dangerous to deal with currency reform from a political viewpoint."

TO TRY BANKER FOR CONTEMPT.

NEW YORKER TO ANSWER FOR DEFYING PUJO INQUIRY.

Federal Judge Upholds the Right of Congress to Ascertain Whether National Bank Participated in Organization of the California Petroleum Company.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
NEW YORK, May 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.]
According to a decision of Judge
Mayer in the United States District Court today, George Garr Henry of the banking firm of William Solomon,
No. 44 Broad street, must stand trial
for contempt of court in Washington.
Henry has been reading extradition ever since the indictment, which followed his refusal to tell the Pujo Money-probing Committee the names of bank officials who, it was alleged,
had participated in the organization of California Petroleum. Henry was represented in court today by ex-Senator John C. Spooner.

In quashing Henry's writ of habeas corpus, Judge Mayer held that Congress has a right to ascertain whether a national bank took part either directly or indirectly in the organization of the California Petroleum Company.

Cold of Sunday Holds on and Shift-

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE

The cold rain which started Sunday night continued today and the constantly shifting winds made difficult the progress of pedestrians who depended on the shelter afforded by an umbrella. Unsettled conditions have prevailed over the Northern and Central States since Saturday and the principal disturbance is now centered over the middle Mississippi Valley, moving eastward.

The temperatures have been low in the great lake region and the Northwestern States, while in the Far Northwest they are considerably above the normal. Ninety-eight degrees at Eureka, Cal., marked that place as the hottest to be found. The other extreme showed 22 degrees at Alpena,

Mich., or exactly the freezing point.

TO AID AMERICANS IN TAMPOCO.

Red Cross Society Authorizes Consult to Draw Funds to Ship Refugees Out.

(BY A. P. WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
WASHINGTON, May 26.—The American Red Cross today authorized American Consul Miller at Tampico, Mex., to draw $5000 for the maintenance and transportation of American refugees to Galveston. Today's reports to the State Department and conditions around Tampico have become intolerable for foreigners. Many American farmers have fled from their holdings and others are unable to leave because of destitution.

William Lorraine Cook, a mining engineer, robbed by bandits, escaped from Zihuatango in a canoe and is now safe in Acapulco.

C. K. Fulton, for whose safety inquiry was made, is safe at San Dimas.
Consul Johnson at Matamoros reports that John Friedman is supposed to be in Victoria.

KEEP THE BABIES OUT OF SIGHT.

CHICAGO WOMAN SAYS YOUNG MEN OBJECT TO THEM.

Declares Girls of Poorer Families
Have No Place to Receive Calves and Are Compelled to Meet Their "Steeds" on the Street Corners and in Dance Halls.

(BY FEDERAL WIRELESS LINE TO THE TIMES.)
CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, May 26.—[Special Dispatch.]
Fashions in women's dress were scored by Miss Mary Bartelme today
at a meeting of the Church Federation Council of Chicago. She advocated a crusade by the ministers
among the women of their own churches to prevent immodest clothing.

"Men should talk plainly to the women, because it is said that the women dress to please the men," she said.

Miss Bartelme also declared that girls of the poorer families have no place to meet or entertain their friends. "It is hardly to be expected," she said, "that a girl will invite a young man to call when she knows that he will be treated to the sight of the baby being put to bed and similar things."

"The natural result of this is to force the girl to meet her friends on the street corner or in a dance hall.
There is a great field for the churches in this. They could have places where girls and young men could meet and be introduced and enjoy themselves socially."

CARTONIST IS SENTENCED.

Newspaper Artist Wins Up Sena-tional Career at Stockton with Four-Year Term.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
STOCKTON, May 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] E. B. Johnson, a newspaper cartoonist well known on both sides of the continent, wound up a meteoric career here this afternoon when he pleaded guilty to passing a worthless check and was sentenced to four years in Prison. Johnson was arrested several days ago just after he had induced ex-Councilman M. Brice-coe to cash a $25 check. When taken before the District Attorney, the cartoonist said he had a large account in a Portland bank and had neglected to write the name of the northern bank on the check he cashed here.

ENGLEND STANDS FROM UNDER.

Wants an Excuse to Dodge if American and Japan Should Come to Blows.

(BY FEDERAL WIRELESS LINE TO THE TIMES.)
OTTAWA (Can.), May 26.—[Special Dispatch.] Sir Cecil Spring Rice, British Ambassador now here, it is asserted on high authority, is discussing the Japanese-United States situation with Premier Borden and Sir Charles Platapetrick, Chief Justice, who is actually Governor-General. Active efforts are being made to revive the arbitration at Washington which, if done under the terms of the Japanese-United States treaty, give England a loophole to escape through in case Japan and the United States come to blows.
This is said to be the principal object of Spring Rice's visit here.

WOOD CHOPPING.

Men Who Thinned Woodlands
Are the Cause of the Forest's Decline.

(BY A. P. WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
WASHINGTON, May 26.—The results of an investigation of woodland in the West Virginia coal strike area were favorably reported to the Senate today by the Education and Labor Committee and was declared by President Marshall to have been made up by unanimous consent, but it was again becoming unfinished business with a position it occupied two weeks ago.

It will come before the Senate authoritatively at the conclusion of the striking business tomorrow, and the committee ordered today probably will be before adjournment. Although the investigation is a vigorous attack against such an "invasion" of rights, Senator Goff announced he did not intend to fight further franchises was granted "invision" as the city may be "invi-
sion."

Furthermore, the committee
"term of the franchise" was undefined or in the hands of the city, and the committee
"franchises and privileges"
it should be "invi-
sion."

SPRING TIME IS Blood-Cleaning Time

Wonderful New Quality Your Entire System
Awaken When the Blood is Cleaned.

Let E. S. S. Rid You of All Blood Disorders.

If you are down with rheumatism;
if you sneeze, feel chilled, are choked with mucus, have a cough, or your skin is pimply and irritated with rash, eczema, or any other blood disorder, just remember that almost all the ills of life come from impure blood. And you can easily give your body a good, thorough cleansing,
a bath by using E. S. S. There is no need for anyone to be dependent over the illness of blood impurities. No matter how badly they attack the system, or how unsightly becomes the skin, just remember there is one in-guant in E. S. S. that stimulates the cellular tissues throughout the body that each part selects its own essential nutrient from the blood.

This means that all decay, all breaking down of the tissues, is checked and repair work begins. E. S. S. has such a specific influence on all local cells as to preserve their mutual welfare and afford a proper relative assistance to each other. More attention is being given to constructive medicine than ever before and E. S. S. is the highest achievement in this line. For many years people relied upon mercury, iodine, potash, arsenic, "physic" cathartics and "dope" as remedies for blood sickness, but now the pure, vegetable E. S. S. is their safeguard.
You can get E. S. S. in any drug store, but insist upon having it. And try store of E. S. S. in your handbook. And if your blood condition is such that you would like to consult a specialist freely and confidentially, address the Medical Dept., The Swift Specific Company, 151 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES

The new town of Fontana offers splendid openings for small merchants and mechanics who want to grow up with the city.

Hardware Store Plumber
General Merchandise Blacksmith
Grocery Store Electrician
Drug Store Garage opening, etc.

Make pre-opening reservations now. Write or call for map and illustrated booklet descriptive of the famous proven Fontana citrus district.

THOMAS D. CAMPBELL & CO.,
General Selling Agents,
625 So. Hill St., Los Angeles.

Fontana Townsite Opening

—reserve your lot NOW—before the formal opening of Fontana Townsite

The attention of the investing public is now centered on the new town-site of Fontana.

This final link in the chain of progressive cities along the picturesque foot-hill boulevard through the orange belt—will be the scene of a grand celebration on Saturday, June 7th.

There will be two big events on this gala day—the formal opening and dedication of Fontana—and the commencement of construction work on the main line of the Pacific Electric connecting Fontana with Los Angeles.

An elaborate program has been prepared—there will be good music, speeches by prominent men of Southern California, the mayors of the "Citrus Cities" will be present, an old-fashioned barbecue will tempt jaded appetites—there will be plenty of enjoyment for everybody.

There will undoubtedly be a grand rush for property in this strategically located commercial and social center on the opening day June 7th—that's why it will pay you to make lot reservations at our offices at once.

Fontana presents exceptional ground floor investment opportunities—the buying terms are easy—only 10% cash and the balance in 60 equal monthly payments.

Statistics procured from the various citrus cities show that the population in each town runs at the rate of one person for every acre in the surrounding developed district belonging to that community.

On this basis, Fontana is entitled to a present population of about 4000 people—inasmuch as there are 3000 acres of young groves and 2500 acres of bearing orchards and vineyards immediately surrounding and commercially tributary to the town.

Fontana will always be the industrial hub of 17,000 irrigated acres. It is located on the main line of the Santa Fe—also the Pacific Electric Railway from Los Angeles to San Bernardino and Riverside.

Four automobile boulevards radiate diagonally from Fontana—
they connect with the foot-hill boulevard and make Fontana accessible from all directions.

(BY A. P. WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
CHICAGO, May 26.—The so-called "patent monopoly" which has been used to prevent cut rates by retailers in all patented articles on the market, was destroyed today by decision of the Supreme Court of the United States.

The court held that owners of patents are not given the right by the law to control the price at which retailers must sell to consumers. The decision in words authorized only a new tonic for which patent had been issued, and will control all patented articles sold under restrictions not to resell at cut rates.

The court reversed the policy
in the famous "mimograph" case,
decided a little over a year ago,
when only seven justices were on the bench, but allowed that case to stand as it goes.

apply to all patents. It means that retailers will be able to sell at the minimum of 10 cents per dozen for the famous "mimograph" which has been sold at a price of $1.00 a dozen for years. It also means that the price of razors, nerve tonics, and many other popular articles will be reduced. The decision is a victory for retailers.
The average wage of the 100
girls in the packing house

UPSETS JURISPRUDENCE.
Appeal at Washington Court in Gompers Case Only Known Instance on Record.
WASHINGTON, May 26.—The District Supreme Court here, which originally sentenced Gompers, John Mitchell and Frank Morrison, union labor leaders, to jail for contempt of court, filed a petition with the Supreme Court of the United States today asking the highest tribunal to review the decision of the District Court of Appeals, which affirmed the conviction of the three men, but reduced their sentences. At the same time the high court had under consideration
a writ of error presented by attorneys for the convicted men.
Gompers originally was sentenced to twelve months, Mitchell to nine,
and Morrison to six. The District Court of Appeals affirmed the conviction and reduced Gompers's sentence to thirty days and Mitchell's and Morrison's to a fine of $100 each.
Attorneys for the labor leaders ask a review and reversal of the lower court on many grounds. The District Supreme Court, against which it is alleged the men committed contempt in the noted Bucks Store & Range case, asks review on the ground that the Court of Appeals had no authority to reduce the sentences
after affirming the convictions.
Those best informed on the history of jurisprudence in the Supreme Court of the United States knew of no other instance in which one inferior court had applied directly to the highest tribunal to reverse another inferior court.
TO SIMPLIFY ENTRY LAWS.
Secretary Lane Wants to Make It Easy for the Regular Homeowners.
Will Investigate Land Office.
WASHINGTON, May 26.—To make the acquisition of homesteads as easy as possible in strict conformity with the law for bona fide settlers and genuine home makers, and as difficult as possible for mere dummy entrymen or speculators, is the announced purpose of Secretary Lane in beginning an investigation of the rules and regulations of the Land Office.
A month ago Secretary Lane sent a special representative to South Dakota to investigate specific charges against county land agents. This inquiry was broadened today with the purpose, eventually of revising the rules for the acquisition of homesteads.
A hearing will be held at Salt Lake City June 5, when Governors of Western States will meet there, with personal representatives of the Secretary.
THE RIVER IS NOT THINE.
No Matter Who Owns the Bed of a Navigable Stream, He Doesn't Own the Flow of Water.
WASHINGTON, May 26.—The Supreme Court decided today that the government was not required to pay the Chandler-Dunbar Water Power company for the use of the water of a Michigan Federal Court for water power appurtenant to land condemned for the construction of additional locks and canals to the St. Mary's River.
It was held that the flow of a navigable stream was in no sense the property of the owner of adjacent land or of the owner of the bed of the river. The decision is regarded as a precedent-making one.
SALVATION OF DAYTON.
Two Million Dollars Raised in a Week's Campaign to Make City Insured From Floods.
DAYTON (O.) May 26.—After a week's campaign to raise $2,000,000
to make the city safe against future floods, the successful culmination of the work was greeted with wild demonstrations of rejoicing. In all churches of the city the ministers yesterday tried their congregations to contribute liberally. Bands paraded the streets and thousands cheered as each new contribution was announced.
Many workmen mortgaged their homes in order to contribute to the funds. One manufacturing concern contributed $400,000.
NEW FREIGHT PRINCIPLE.
"YOU CAN'T FORCE TRADE."
WASHINGTON, May 26.—Railroads may not force consumers to deal with manufacturing plants located on their lines by adjusting freight rates from plants to have their products moved at reasonable rates. This principle was laid down by the Interstate Commerce Commission today in a decision involving the rates on plas-tar and gypsum rock from and to points in the Middle West.

All Equines in France Are

Are Sold at High Prices to Slaughter-houses.
PARIS, May 26.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) With a view to reducing the cost of living, the chamber voted today to reduce the import duty on horses intended for slaughter from $10 to $15. The full duty must be paid when the horses are brought in to the country and a rebate will be granted on production of a certificate that they have been killed for food.
There are in France 700 places where horses are slaughtered. Paris consumes 40,000 in 1911. The animals are valued at $40 to $50. Practically all horses in France reach the slaughter-houses except the State's stallions which are sold elsewhere.
Horse meat sells at 15 cents a pound.

LONDON, May 26.—No effort is to be made to disturb the body of Captain Robert P. Scott, nor those of the heroes who died with him while returning from the expedition to the South Pole.
Lord Curzon made this announcement today at the annual meeting of the Royal Geographical Society when the society's medals were presented to the widows of Capt. Scott and Dr.
Edward A. Wilson, and to the surviving members of the expedition.
The relatives of the dead men had expressed the unanimous desire that the recovery of the bodies never should be attempted.

COOKING SCHOOL TO BE REOPENED.

MRS. HAFNER-GINGER READY TO RESUME COOKING.

After a recess of three weeks the Cooking School sessions will be resumed at 2:30 o'clock, when Mrs. Hafner-Ginger will demonstrate the preparation of summer soft drinks. Approaching warm weather brings the soft drinks to the top of the menu, and in the preparation of cooling beverages Mrs. Hafner-Ginger is said to be as proficient as she is in the culinary arts.

Hot and cold, will be the chief feature of her talk today, and she will explain the merits of the different kinds of teas and the best ways of brewing them. Each guest will be presented with a small packet of one of the lecturer's favorite brands free, with instructions how to prepare the drink.

Spices as it may seem, many hot drinks have cooling effects, and whether prepared hot or cold, the beverages on the menu today will have their cooling qualities explained and explained by Mrs. Hafner-Ginger.

The resumption of the cooking school today is the beginning of another season of delightful afternoon culinary entertainments and lectures. Mrs. Hafner-Ginger was bereaved by the sudden death of her mother, and only because she could not be replaced, but out of respect for her and the little woman who was so proud of her talented daughter's abilities and so helpful in assisting to entertain, the school was given a vacation for a time.

Now Mrs. Hafner-Ginger has planned for a comprehensive and delightful series of lectures and courses of lessons, featuring especially summer cooking and the preparation of lunches for picnickers and workers. In her new series Mrs. Hafner-Ginger will be assisted by her daughter, Miss Mabel Hafner, who graduated from the Santa Barbara State Normal Domestic Science department. Miss Hafner will take up especially dietetic features, covering food values and their proper application and assimilation in the various ages and environments.

Miss Hafner has high recommendation from the noted Miss Rich and has had considerable experience, not only with her mother, but in several independent endeavors.

One of the features of Miss Hafner's duties under the direction of her mother will be the preparation of lunches for workers of various degrees and conditions, and for children of all ages, including those who are compelled by circumstances to take their midday meals at school.

Another feature will be home nursing, the care of the sick and the management of the sick room. It is Mrs. Hafner-Ginger's conclusion that much of the worry of caring for a growing family might be obviated if the ill of youngsters and older alike could be properly attended to in their infirmity and, if aggravated, be properly nursed through the stage.

Mrs. Hafner-Ginger has made preparations to entertain a large crowd of women, larger even than the splendid gatherings of her first term. During her absence hundreds of expectant women called daily, hoping the school would be reopened, and knowing the cause of the lecturer's absence.

Every accommodation has been provided for the guests and pupils and Mrs. Hafner-Ginger is prepared to take after all of them.

FUNERAL OF VICTIM. OCHLAGE, May 26.—Tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock will be held the funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth H. Richardson, one of those killed in the Long Beach disaster last Saturday. The service will be held at the First Presbyterian Church with Mrs. Richardson's sister, Mrs. Jackson, in charge. She was the wife of Water Works Superintendent W. J. Richardson and the mother of Ross Richardson, one of the injured, and William Richardson. Miss Richardson was brought home yesterday. She was unconscious from suffocation when she was removed from the death pit. Though her toes on one foot were bent backward and badly strained and cut, her injuries are not permanent.

The remains of Mrs. A. K. Hill, who was killed, are being held at Smith's undertaking parlors at Santa Ana until word can be received from her son, W. A. Hill, a Supreme Court judge in Kansas, and John Hill of Oklahoma.

WILD FIGHT SUIT. Bull brought here yesterday by the Buffalo Specialty Company of Buffalo, N. Y., against the Alameda Manufacturing Company for infringement of patent on a tire-sealing suit will be bitterly fought, according to C. F. Hutchinson, Jr., secretary of the Alameda Air Company, of which Harry Oldfield is vice-president.

Representatives for the Alameda Air Company have been established in Los Angeles, and all of its general offices are located in this city.

EXHIBITION IN NATURE STUDY.

ALL SCHOOLS IN THE CITY TO BE REPRESENTED.

Competitions in Living and Inanimate Objects Give Best to Preliminary Contest—Little Girl's Rooster Poster Attracts Attention—Prize for Best Sanitation Map.

Under the direction of C. L. Edwards, supervisor of nature study in the public schools, an exhibition will be held in the Grand-avenue school building on Saturday, June 7. There will be maps on sanitation, posters and drawings of all descriptions, a collection of feathers, insects and other living objects, all designed to make the children better acquainted with nature in all its various phases. An effort will be made to have every school represented by an exhibit, and as the city superintendent has solicited the co-operation of all principals and teachers, it will probably be complete, and necessarily unique.

The plan is to have each pupil make one of the following things and the school to make a collection therefrom for the general exhibit: Live box with horned toad, rabbit or other animals; nature study map, sanitation map, drawing, painting or model of some animal; poster illustrating nature study; collection of feathers, insects and other objects; a fly trap.

The Woman's Bulletin has offered as a prize to the pupil who produces the best sanitation map for the exhibit, a handsome copy of Mrs. Comstock's "Hand Book of Nature." Another prize, which will not be awarded until a week following the exhibit, is for the best photograph, which must be actually made by the pupil. It need not necessarily be of one or more of the exhibits, but so that the little kodakers may have a chance to photograph the exhibits if they wish, the award of the prize has been put over for one week.

The youngsters in all the schools are already hard at work on their exhibits for their own individual school, each striving to do his best to exhibit in the Grand-avenue building. One of the results is the crayon poster of little Helen Curtis of the Pasadena grammar school, which is up to Helen to look to her laurels in that direction. Albert King of the sixth grade, Monte Vista school, was recently awarded a copy of Mrs. Comstock's book for the best anti-fly campaign poster and was honored by having it printed as a full-page illustration in the bulletin.

Edwards is an enthusiast upon the subject of nature study, to be sure, or he couldn't hold his job, and he is ready to talk on all subjects connected with the subject.

"In the Los Angeles city schools we have created a new nature study, or, as I prefer to call it, nature play," he said yesterday. "Freeing our subject of all unnecessary technicalities, we have shown the relation of the types of animals to one another and to the child, and thus embodied the fundamental philosophy of modern comparative anatomy and biology."

Music Master's Ours.

Mrs. Clifford Lott is chairman, recommended the election of the following directors, who were unanimously chosen:

Mrs. Fred Bishy, Mrs. A. C. Blicke, Willis Booth, Miss Clara Germain, Clifford Lott, Mrs. J. O. Koepfl, Mrs. H. L. Story, Gen. M. H. Sherman, Mrs. L. N. Brunswig, Mrs. B. S. Bush, Mrs. Irving Tagabarn, Mrs. E. L. Doherty, Dr. Norman Bridge, Mrs. Howard Huntington, Mrs. Dean Mason, Mrs. Walter Raymond, John B. Miller, Mrs. Elbert Wing, Mrs. W. J. Washburn and Mrs. H. W. R. Strong.

The size of the directorate was increased from seventeen to twenty-one members. Twenty were elected yesterday, leaving one vacancy yet to be filled. The following members of the old board of directors were re-elected: Mrs. Bishy, Booth, Mrs. Koepfl, Mrs. Story, Mrs. Bush, Dr. Bridge, Mrs. Huntington and Mrs. Raymond.

A quorum of the newly-elected directorate was present and the members at once elected these officers from among their own number: President, Gen. Sherman; first vice-president, Mrs. Raymond; second vice-president, Mrs. Lott; third vice-president, Mrs. Story; secretary, Mrs. Mason; treasurer, Mrs. Koepfl.

The selection of a conductor to succeed Harry Hamilton, who is to leave the field of action for a much-needed rest, is the most important consideration now before the directors. They also are considering what soloists are to be engaged for next season. It is probable that about six will be selected from foreign instrumentalists and vocalists, and from American vocalists. All of the soloists for the popular concerts will be selected from local talent.

NOTED APPLICANTS. The following-named are the more prominent musicians who have applied for the position of conductor of the symphony orchestra:

Dr. Heinrich Scherle, conductor of Kessler Symphony Orchestra; has been conductor of symphony work in Munich, Ulm and Augsburg.

TAKES REDUCED. PORTERVILLE, May 26.—City Clerk Halbert announced that for the coming year the city taxes of Porterville will be about 10 cents less than for 1911, the rate having been estimated for the coming fiscal period at $1.30, as against $1.50 last season. The reduction is due in part to the decreasing interest on bond issues and partly to the fact that the general fund of the city shows a comfortable surplus, which was not found necessary during the past year.

Where IS Your Office?

Is it located in a remote, hard-to-get-to part of town? How long does it take you to get to it in the morning? How long to get home from it in the evening?

This is the vital question with you—time is money—and 10 or 15 minutes' delay in getting to your office may disrupt the whole business day.

By car or automobile the MOST ACCESSIBLE office building in Los Angeles is the Los Angeles Investment Building. In relation to the great Southwest residential section, the Los Angeles Investment Building is the EASIEST and QUICKEST of access. Over 25 main car lines run within one or two blocks of it—all the beach and suburban cars coming into Los Angeles run within one or four blocks of this building.

Best Known, Best Built, Best Equipped

building in Los Angeles is the Los Angeles Investment Building—18 stories of fireproof Class A, metropolitan construction—elegant in appointment, perfect in equipment—the home of the Largest Co-Operative Building Company in the world, with which over 30,000 "live accounts" are transacted—in the heart of the financial banking and shopping district—the right location for your office.

SOCIETY AFFAIRS

TUESDAY MORNING

FOR WOMEN

Facts, Features

DAILY BEAUTY HINT:

...ion, but it seems to clear and
...day," said the beauty specialist.
...had a delightful aroma. "Yes,
...could drink it without injury."

"As I was walking in the direc-
of the downtown district, the oday," said the business man, "I a gentleman, immaculately o-wearing a white vest, and shinshoes and perhaps I showed some-prise when I observed that he
in his hand a common garden
As he passed me, while he straight ahead, he said in rather defiant tone: 'This is no bluff! I business!'"

Futurist.
In front of that extremely "The shop, in the Broadway window o-big store, I overheard an amusconversation.
"I am told," said the lady, "that real Parisian women do not w-these extreme styles. They simpl-ly wear them and the American w-never hesitate about adopting them.
The man looked so though he really doubted as to the adoption of the mode even by the most extreme American women, but he was too pto contradict, and the lady started expecting that she would meet
"futurist" woman before she had tr-
versed the length of Broadway."

If you have ever seen that wind-you may not catch the point of the Everything worn by those futurist ldies of wax is of the most extrstyle. The frocks are all to the m-otic circle or the mazy, and the foot millinery is equally ext-
There are, posed upon the prow of the Colombian shoes, bright green Mercurings which match the hose beneath the lattery is of the most extravagant and fantastic feather.
The colors in every domain of the cotuming are of the smiting sort which even now on Broadway strike ch-ers as does amateur landscape painting in oil.

That window artist certainly has his little joke; and if one might judge by the conversation of which I have spoken, he had it all to himself, or a least that lady observer did not perceive it. At all events, she was an extremely clever window artist, and the observing conversationalist does not find it out until far in the future.

As All Over Pattern.

An entire suit in cretonne was observed in one of the big stores. The color of the hat, the parasol—all were in a pretty pattern, and this charming pattern, which is at present so much in vogue.

From the Hat Tree.

In olden times they used to call it hat rack a "hat tree," I am told.
Now there is a modern version of the tree. I saw one in a certain department of one of the big stores. The hats are strung from the bark of a tree. The hats are of the most it is said that they are pretty, pliable and that they are of the most resemble leather in appearance and material.

Endured.

If you are a mother and the pins for your children's undergarments are forever straying away, you will appreciate those pins which are fastened together by means of a strong nickel chain. There are three pins thus fastened, and there is sufficient elasticity allowed so that they can perfectly fulfill their mission.

Layers.

At last a beauty pin has been invented which knows its place and keeps it.
This is accomplished by means of a spring pin at the back of the hair, so that there is no hinge to get out of place. No W. Colie to refuse to work.
These beauty pins are beauties instead, on the principle that handsomeness is that handsome does.

No Indictments Here.

I believe I have noted every kind of collar support at most of the millin-eries and after the first glow of anticipation has faded, I have found that this one and that did not live up to its opportunities.
I was subject to the indictment of non-support. But yesterday morning I found one that really meets above suspicion.

There were celluloid stays for the collared necks which were thrust over the collared pin. These were convenient and the pins were always slipping away and getting lost. Now there is a more inventive genius has made these stays longer, so that they have more trouble in finding themselves and warding, in fact, and result is a collar support which "really does."

"Cut" Prices.

In that "Rooster Sale," which began with a "B. saw shears of all the sorts and had stays at cut prices.
Some of the prices were "clipped" to one of the small fractions of the usual price. It was almost like stealing scissors;
and it was assured that the scissors
were all steel.

Not All-Over Guimpes.

The girl or woman who does not like to wear a long neck and short sleeves, will be glad to find ready-to-wear guimpes of a good quality of net,
with long sleeves and well-finished collars. These at the price are inexpensive and no one would think of making them at home.

Summered Silver.

There is always something quaint and attractive in articles made from handmade silver.
In one of the large stores there is a beautiful and attractive collection of silver and odd dishes and trays, in which there are some very fine pieces.

London's Dictates.

There are lovely wraps and mandara of moire, corded silk chiffo-
and with satin in Persian designs.
Deep cuts are a feature in the latest wraps.

Mrs. George W. Maxon,

Who recently entertained with a large auction bridge party and was present enjoying an outing at Elsinore.

COLLEGE boys and girls who will return next month from the East will be guests of honor at an absolute dancing party to be given on June 24 by Capt. William Banning, Joseph Banning, Jr., Hancock Banning, Jr., George Hugh Banning and Master William Banning, at the beautiful residence built by Capt. Banning at Thirty-first and Hoover streets.

This palatial home with its spacious ballroom was erected expressly for the captain's niece and nephews, and during their summer vacation many delightful affairs will be given by them.

Miss Eleanor Banning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hancock Banning, who leaves Miss Spencer's school in New York has been visiting Mrs.
Samuel H. Marshall of Virginia, will arrive in this city about June 12, while her brother, Hancock, who is a student at the Virginia Military institute, will reach home eleven days later.

More College Students.

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Barker of West Adam street are impatiently awaiting the return of their son, Lawrence, from Yale. It is expected he will leave the East in a week.

Meyer of No. 2113 Beverance street will arrive soon from Cornell to join the happy crowd.

Mrs. Morgan to Entertain.

Mrs. Corine Morgan of No. 2244
West Twenty-fourth street will entertain this week for Miss Emeline Childs, a young and attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cere W.
Childs, who has just returned from school in France and Italy. The affair will be in honor of the hostess's son, Corine, Jr.

Guest from Virginia.

Mrs. William Thompson of Virginia, who is prominent socially in the south, is the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Hancock Banning at their home, West Adams street and Grand avenue.

Mrs. Chaffee Hostess.

Mrs. Adna R. Chaffee of No. 281
Magnolia avenue, entertained Saturday with one of the enjoyable affairs of the week. Mrs. Chaffee asked as her special guest, Mrs. J. B. Kismann, who will soon leave for a trip to New York. A handsome mound of flattery poppies graced the center of the table where there were plates for Mrs. William H. Chaffee, Mrs. William Grant
Fitch, Mrs. Harvey Duryea, Mrs. E.
F. C. Klokke, Mrs. I. N. Van Nuy, Mrs.
F. P. Clark, Mrs. William A.
Clark, Mrs. W. C. Hubbell, Mrs.
Victor E. Shaw, Mrs. Henry Albers

Golden Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Smith, whose wedding was solemnized fifty years ago, while Mr. Smith was home on a furlough, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary party at their home, No. 2754 Halstead

Mr. and Mrs. Smith were assisted by their daughter, Mrs. M.
Howard, of this city.

National colors and flowers brightened the home, and presented a gay scene. In the evening the party was given by eight years, have five children. M.

MAKING HIMSELF SOLID.
President Wilson is said to be in doubt as to whom he will name as Governor of Hawaii. If he wants to make good with the people over there he will name a sugar planter.

ANOTHER EXAMPLE.
The woodpeckers in Sonoma county are said to have been working small round holes in the sides of the hills. This is a fresh proof of the horrible results of the present high cost of living.

OUT OF PLACE.
It is said that New York does not take kindly to the paprika highball recommended by the new Secretary of Agriculture. What business has a member of the present Cabinet to recommend highballs of any kind?

A BITTER LESSON.
Congressman Kahn makes a plea for better military training for the young men of the United States. Experience is always the most extravagant way of learning and if the country waits for the battlefield to instruct its soldiers it will pay a bitter price for its service.

THE RIGHT STEP.
Wealthy Japanese residents of California have endowed a chair of Japanese history and government at Stanford University. As a means toward a better understanding between the two countries such steps are of great benefit. The University of Southern California wisely anticipated this necessity two years ago by establishing a chair of oriental study and commerce.

BACK AGAIN.
Mrs. Pankhurst has broken into jail again. She seems to have no trouble in coming back. If she goes on another hunger strike the officers over there are likely to encourage her to make a good job of it while she is about it. The government of England cannot afford to remain at a standstill on account of one woman. London is getting to be known as a place where Mrs. Pankhurst is tried.

EXTRAVAGANCE.
My trust that the American Consul at Tampico, Mexico, will be duly censured by the State Department for his wasteful waste of government funds. He has been cabling and telegraphing the United States to send a battleship to Tampico to protect Americans. It has already been demonstrated that this government will do nothing of the kind and its vice-consuls should not be allowed to burn up the country's money by asking for help.

NOT YET.
The retiring Minister from Nicaragua says that the United States can build another canal down there which will save two thousand miles between the East and West and he predicts that this country will do so. We think he anticipates events by a considerable stretch of time. Our people are very proud of the Panama Canal, but Uncle Sam is like a young father with a new baby. He wouldn't take a billion dollars for this one, but he wouldn't give a cent for another.

THE FOR TAT.
President Wilson's jury reform bill came to grief in the New Jersey Legislature. The bill as amended and approved by Joseph P. Tamm, the President's private secretary, passed the House, but in the Senate it was defeated. The Republican members voting solidly against it because it was a Republican bill. Reconcile, brethren, reconcile. Reason says that "he who studies revenge keeps his own wounds green."

A MISSISSIPPI RIVER NAVY.
Quartermaster Andrew Koehn of the United States Navy has been ordered by the department to exercise the forces and extenders of his arms and give scope to his power of observation by taking a 2470-mile run on the Mississippi River from Lake Itasca to the Gulf of Mexico.

The quartermaster is an expert seaman, a member of several champion navy teams, a champion single sculler and winner of prizes in rowing contests in different parts of the world. He has been in light training for six months, using rowing machines.

A dispatch from Minneapolis says: "He has planned a boat especially for the trip, the craft to be of galvanized steel, ten feet long and forty-five-inch beam and a wooden floor. The forward end of the boat will be decked thirty inches above the floor to provide a sleeping apartment. Mr. Koehn plans to carry sixty pounds of equipment and enough food to last between cities en route, and will use his own fuel."

He expects to make the trip in ninety days, making about twenty-eight miles a day. That ought not to be difficult, for the current of the river would enable him to make that distance in less than ten hours.

The reason assigned for this somewhat peculiar voyage is that "the Navy Department is arranging the trip as an advertisement to attract recruits."

It is not clear how successful padding down stream on a river can induce anybody to enlist in the navy, but maybe President Wilson can explain the reason of the order even as he has explained how Congress can add to the customs revenues by reducing them one hundred millions of dollars by placing wool, sugar and other articles on a free list.

THE RUSSO-JAPANESE WAR.

Nine years ago Russia, with a population of 128,181,248, a regular army of 1,154,412 soldiers and an army on a war footing of 5,547,590, engaged in war with Japan, which had a population of 45,496,082, a regular army of 210,900 and an army on a war footing of 1,350,900.

The naval strength of the two nations was more nearly equal, Russia having 271 ships and 68,000 men, and Japan having 286 ships and 42,471 men. The soldiers of Russia cost her $155 each per annum, or $1.45 per capita, to maintain, while those of Japan cost but $91 per annum, or 46 2/3 cents per capita. The navy of Russia costs her $216,000 per ship, or $30 per sailor per annum. The navy of Japan costs her $61,483 per ship, or $34.75 per sailor per annum to maintain. Russia had three times the population and five times the number of regular soldiers of Japan. The national credit of Japan was not negotiable and her bonds were not even quoted on the bourses of Europe.

Yet the conditions were not so absolutely unequal as they at first sight appeared to be. One reason why Russia was beaten in the contest with Japan was because her military power was arrayed against a people 5000 miles distant from the Czar's base. The power of a nation is not measured merely by the mass of its material and military resources, but by the extent to which it can bring its strength to bear against the enemy.

In our revolutionary war the material and military resources of England were immensely in excess of ours, but she was 3000 miles away from the point where she must fight, and transportation was slow and insecure. Had England been as near Massachusetts and Virginia as she is to Ireland, she would govern all North America today; but the ocean that rolled between made her fight a losing cause. The Pacific can be spanned with ocean steamers in one-third the time that was required 135 years ago to cross the Atlantic. But the invader is, under any circumstances, and always must be, at a disadvantage.

Russia, during the war with Japan, depended for her communication with Manchuria upon a single-track railroad 5000 miles long and subject to the accidents of war. It stretched the carrying capacity of this road to the utmost to carry food to an army of 200,000 men; while Japan, being within a few hundred miles of her base, and having practical command of the sea, occupied a much more advantageous position.

Yet, under all the circumstances, the nations of Europe looked for no other outcome to the war than the overwhelming defeat, if not the absolute extinction, of Japan; and hence the Japanese triumph, when it came, amazed the civilized world.

The Japanese owed their success mainly to three facts—the accuracy of their forecasts, the completeness of their preparations, and their contempt for death. The progress of hostilities was marked by orderly co-operation of army and navy. Port Arthur and Vladivostok were isolated; Korea was effectively occupied. By swift movements by sea and land the way was cleared, the lines of communication between the central theater of the war and the ports of Japan freed from every serious obstacle, and the Russian army was directly encountered in Southern Manchuria.

The detailed and systematic movements in Manchuria, resulting in the capture of Port Arthur and the hurling back of the Russian army toward its headquarters at Harbin, was one of the most wonderful pieces of generalship recorded in modern history. Treating Liaotung as a triangle, the apex of which at the southeastern extremity was Port Arthur, the Japanese established a line across the base by the capture of Kinohu, Takushan, Balmate and Shuyen. They obtained control of the peninsula and forced the Russians back on their temporary base.

From the beginning to the end of the war the Japanese were never defeated from their systematized, intricate and swift plan of operations.

They landed an army at Takushan. Immediately afterwards, after heavy skirmishes, another army occupied Salmate. The very next day these combined armies captured Port Arthur. The capture of Port Arthur was practically a foregone conclusion. The personal courage of the Japanese is largely accounted for by the fact that in their religious belief to die in battle is esteemed a privilege that will land his possessor whatever his previous conduct—at once in the highest heaven.

There have been bloody battles in Europe. The battle of Alms in the Crimean war was marked by prodigious sacrifices on both sides. At Balaklava the Light Brigade under the command of Lord Cardigan, through a misapprehension of orders, lost out of 670 all but 188 men. Gen. Scarlett's Heavy Brigade repelled the Russian attack and the slaughter was terrific. At Ankersham, where the Russians were defeated, the percentage of loss was extraordinary. But none of these battles, in fact none recorded in history, surpassed the futility and determination of the Japanese at Kinohu. The space in front of the heights of Nanchan Hill was covered by wire entanglements. Nine times the Japanese infantry charged over what appeared to be insuperable obstacles, and nine times they were repelled and their ranks decimated. When defeat seemed to be certain, and the ammunition was almost exhausted, the fourth division of the Osaka men, of whom it had been said that they were not brave, rushed upon the Russian line, over the bodies of their dead comrades, and carried their flag to the summit. In this battle a naval force co-operated with the army, but there were charges in which every man fell. The successive assaults were fierce and bloody to the last degree, and the soldiers, without exception, manifested the spirit of victory at every crisis. On the Japanese side there was a king emblem wearing about forty-seven different kinds of uniforms, coupled with a prodigious memory for sartorial etiquette.

Every major and minor state function must be attended to in the exact equipment allotted to that particular occasion, or a dangerous violation of precedent will be the consequence. The ordinary citizen who appears at a formal dance in a morning tweed suit may upset a whole social circle; but a German King should be greeted a Russian emperor in an Austrian uniform, might turn loose the red dogs of war on a paralyzed continent.

This danger was illustrated—and let us add safely warned off—at the nuptial ceremonies of the Princess Victoria Louise. Luckily the Kaiser is a man of tact, versatility and resource. Though he had to spend a strenuous summer day changing uniforms at the rate of sixty miles an hour, so as to appear in the regulation attire to suit the sensibilities of the various nations whose rulers he was greeting, he never once slipped his trolley. In the presence of the Czar he was a Russian, of England a Britisher, of Austria an Austrian, and so on down the line. Also for breakfast, luncheon and dinner, strict processions and formal ceremonies he had to be always minutely correct from the droop of his plumes to the fit of his gloves. His memory and his swiftness carried him triumphantly through the ordeal.

Let us remember, too, that an ordinary untrained man would take six hours to get the hang of one of the elaborate uniforms which the Emperor manipulates with such amazing celerity. Those of us who use bad words over the tying of an evening bow, or over a collar stud or a missing trouser button, might well take a lesson from the sartorial patience of Europe's greatest ruler. William is truly a wonderful man, considered either in his private dressing-room or in the public council chamber.

Another kingly accomplishment beyond the reach of the untitled male citizen is to be able to kiss a man with a beard—and appear to like it.

REFUSES TO HARMONIZE.
Toopious declines to harmonize. Why should he not decline? Harmony with him spells personal extinction of himself from political domination. Of the Republican party he says:

"What care I how fair she be,
So that she be not fair to me."

"What to me," he soliloquizes, "will be the salvation of the citrus industry if accompanied by the restoration of the Republican party to power? I made all that it is possible for me to make out of the citrus industry when I was a rebater. What do I care about saving the sugar-beet industry? I had rather have one dead beast—that's me. What do I care about the ruin of the wool industry? I have enough wool in the storage shed of my one-cent newspapers to pull over the eyes of the public. Down with harmony. Let dissension prevail."

THE OUNCE OF PREVENTION.
There are fire-traps in Los Angeles. There are buildings liable to collapse in Los Angeles. The Long Beach sacrifice upon the altar of long-hair faddism and petty politics bids us look to our own dangers. It is to be hoped that the Los Angeles building inspector will redouble his activities. Now is the time for the INSPECTION THAT INSPECTS and is useful.

The impressive lesson of the Long Beach horror is the folly of trusting enterprise involving life and property to petty politicians when private skill and individual conscience could better be relied upon. The City Attorney of Long Beach has bravely and candidly condemned the scheme of the municipal doing of everything in sight. In this awful instance, now absorbing all attention, it has proven to be murder.

CHANGING UNIFORMS.
Occupying a throne is not so easy a job as it appears on the surface. Versatility is essential. By no means the least of the many accomplishments placed upon the wearer of a crown is an ability to fill the role of lightning change artist. For being a king entails wearing about forty-seven different kinds of uniforms, coupled with a prodigious memory for sartorial etiquette.

Every major and minor state function must be attended to in the exact equipment allotted to that particular occasion, or a dangerous violation of precedent will be the consequence. The ordinary citizen who appears at a formal dance in a morning tweed suit may upset a whole social circle; but a German King should be greeted a Russian

MATEUR LAWMAKERS.
"A sorry mess of badly digested and half-baked laws," as President Ripley of the Santa Fe characterized the attempts of the last Californian Legislature, is what we might expect from that collection of freaks and tyroes. Nobody wants green hands in the automobile, baking, building, drug, dry goods, hardware, lumber, laundry, meat packing, railroad, street car, telephone or any wholesale or retail business. Why in heaven's name we should put up with green hands in the most important business in the world, that of making laws for the people, the Lord above would find it hard to explain.

Some day, when the science of popular government is properly understood, we shall have technical schools for training legislators, and no candidate will be allowed to run on any ticket who cannot pass an examination to show that he understands the duties he is about to undertake. At present too often the salary is considered before the responsibility attached to it; as in the case of Holy Hiram's obedient henchmen, conscientious work is the last thing sought. We specialize now in every branch of work except that of legislation, although legislation is the one thing above all else that calls for expert treatment. We demand professional lawyers and doctors, clergymen and accountants, but we put up with the rawest amateurs to run our affairs of state. We wouldn't sell our birthrights for a mess of pottage but we would trade our State rights for a pot of messengers, badly digested and half baked at that. We wouldn't let the butcher overcharge us for a leg of mutton or the baker for a batch of bread, but we allowed our tax makers to overcharge us for a punk performance we could very well have done without.

Why, half of the so-called Californian legislators who voted for the alien land bill couldn't do the hoe and shovel work of the little brown laborers against whom to win white votes—they stirred up race prejudice. Not one of them could pass an examination in political economy or civic government.

For the good of California let us do no more experimenting with hopeless amateurs but pick trained men in the future to attend to our housekeeping. There are lots of litter and dust and cobwebs to be cleaned up.

RECORD IMPORTS OF FACTORY MATERIALS.
A statement just given out by Secretary of Commerce William C. Redfield indicates that the quantities of factory materials imported into the United States during the present fiscal year will greatly exceed the imports of last year and will exceed the mark of any previous year in the history of our country, if the figures for the nine months ended March, 1913, be any criterion. Of the ten important articles forming the bulk of the imports of such materials, namely, cotton, wool, flax, silk, tin, copper, rubber, hides, lumber and tobacco, the imports will, with but two exceptions, exceed the former high record mark.

Here are the figures of such imports during nine months ended March, 1913, as compared with those for the nine months ended March, 1912:

	Nine months ended March, 1913.	Nine months ended March, 1912.
Raw cotton, pounds	100,000,000	85,000,000
Wool, pounds	165,000,000	135,000,000
Fibers, tons	213,000	211,000
Flax silk, pounds	20,000,000	18,000,000
Pig tin, pounds	31,000,000	32,000,000
Copper, pounds	234,000,000	206,000,000
Crude rubber	87,000,000	81,000,000
Hides and skins, pounds	453,000,000	374,000,000
Lumber, feet	318,000,000	248,000,000
Tobacco, pounds	48,000,000	37,000,000

UNCLE WALT.
The Poet Philosopher.

I've brought forth the mower from where I've been stabled, and oiled up its bearings and tightened its screws, and now I shall push it around till disabled, and try to imagine it is good for my thesis. I keep it going, new faster, now slower, an hour in the evening, an hour at the dawn, and try to be fond of my red-and-green mower, my trusty old mower that shingles the lawn, my mower that shingles the lawn, my mower that shingles the lawn. I went to the hay scale this morning and weighed me; I hoped I had lost seven shirins of grease; black and alas, but the figures dismayed me—74 gained thirteen pounds, and I called the police! My soul is depressed and my spirits are lower, I hope to be slender and fleet as a fawn, but now I am done with the jinxed mower, the blooming green whippers may grow on the lawn.

GARDENING BY CHANCE.
An Angelino with a taste for gardening and a longing for novelty has hit upon a plan to gratify both. He had his large lot shaded, fertilized, prepared for irrigation and divided into six plots of equal size. He ordered from the seedman six packages of garden seeds stipulating that the labels and all other means of identifying the seeds should be removed from the packages, and that he should not be informed what seeds he purchased.

He planted his garden accordingly. He awaits the germination of the seeds and appearance of the plants with anxious curiosity. With a hose he keeps the ground properly irrigated the while he sits in an armchair and softly sighs:

"You, nor I, nor nobody knows Where oats, peas, beans and barley grows."

THE TYRANNY OF FAME.

BY LILLIAN COLLINS.

I have just become famous. Suddenly, mysteriously and most unexpectedly, I have arrived at the very apex of ambition. This little secret is my announcement of the fortuitous event. I am sure you will all rejoice with me.

I have waited and worked for a good many years in anticipation of just this result. In the prolonged suspense of hope deferred I have worked—and waited. And now, when Fame suddenly overtakes me, I am wholly unprepared to meet her because, forsooth, greatness comes from an unexpected source.

I—plain, prosaic woman—have been featured in brackets at the head of a beauty column!

No wonder that I am slightly bewildered by the suddenness of my rise. Without the faintest premonition of impending fate I find myself, overnight, quite in a class with the Lina Cavalieris and Gaby Deslys of newspaper fame. It's overwhelming; it's—it's really shocking, don't you know! I shall require quite a bit of coaching before I am able to display the correct characteristics pertaining to the role.

Heretofore, quite without regard to inherent possibilities, I have merely accepted my features without complaint, and gave never a thought to those important first aids to beauty in distress, which I shall now be forced to cultivate.

Where, oh, where shall I begin! Hair tonics—face creams—powders, yellow, white and pink—eyebrow pencils, brushes, and curlicues—manicure outfits—rouge sticks, wrinkle erasers—

Help!

It's awful. I'm tired—oh, so tired—at the mere thought of aiting and sorting among this bewildering array of beauty accessories which are now become my necessities in that exalted position to which I have so recently been elevated.

Just think of having to work that combination every day! I'd almost rather remain undiscovered.

And that is only a starter. There are the milk baths, and the olive oil soaks and alcohol rubs, massage, osteopathy, exercise, diet, rest cures, sanatoriums—

I'm afraid I shan't ever find time to write any more. I'm rather sorry too. I'd much rather write than do all that.

But—noblesse oblige! Having once entered the Hall of Fame, its honor must be maintained by becoming dignified. Having worn the crown of laurels upon my brow, no other style of hair dress may ever again be mine. I have entered the lists in the Tournament of Beauty and not all the Lina and Gabys in existence shall put me to rout.

I suspect it's going to be a rather trying experience, just at first. I incline to shrink from the ordeal of my debut. I wonder just how it will feel to be able to collect a crowd and halt traffic by merely sauntering along the street. There's a wicked fascination in the thought. Already I feel myself expanding with a new-found consciousness of power; and yet—

I'm rehearsing every day for the rather difficult role of beauty deity. First I tried a few of those statuesque poses, by means of which Lina so strikingly sets forth her manifold charms; but I found they made me kind of dizzy and red in the face. They're not so easy as they look.

Then I turned my attention to Gaby—dainty, wicked little Gaby—who, I have noted the saucy tilt of her little head, the roguish challenge of her flashing eyes, the rait, of her youthful pose and laughing lips. I tried them all, singly and in ensemble, but I fancy I made a sorry mess of them. It was surprisingly difficult to make them even one at a time, much less in clusters. I have not yet achieved the charming insouciance with which Gaby subdues kings and subjugates kingdoms—but maybe that will come with practice.

I am not sure, however, that I shall be able to successfully copy the model of either Lina or Gaby. Perhaps I'll just buy a bunch of Billie Burke curls and let it go at that.

Oh, Obscurity! how peaceful were thy nights! how sweet the calm content of thy untroubled days! Oh, Fame—thou tyrant! goading, with spur and lash, thy victims ever onward, wantonly seducing them with hopes of happiness which then, possessing not, can never bestow!

UNFOLDING OF THE DUAL PERSONALITY OF BECKY.

Frances Starr and the Original Belasco Company in a Fresh Presentation of "The Case of Becky" a Phase of Abnormal Psychology, Cleverly Staged, at the Majestic.

BY HERBERT ALLEN.

WARD LOCKER'S "The Case of Becky" was presented at the Majestic Theatre, last night.

The play is based on the psychological study of dual personality.

The author has himself acknowledged that the case of "Becky" is a study of dual personality.

As an able support, Albert Bruning gave a convincing Dr. Emerson, the psychologist, kindly, thoughtful, affectionate.

Harry C. Browne is a find as the good-natured, big-limbed graduate in hospital practice, the newly-made Dr. Peters.

Prof. Balsamo, the professional hypnotist, cleverly done by Charles Dalton, adds a comedy part, which relieves the very technical psychological study of Becky.

Miss Pettigrew, very sober, and a little slow of mind for a nurse in a sanatorium, is the role of Mabel Norton, and Eugene O'Brien is the lover, John Arnold.

The stage setting is admirable, as is usual with Belasco productions. The first two acts are played in Dr. Emerson's office and the third in his laboratory.

While the drama has a medico-technical flavor throughout, there is enough action and comedy to relieve the painful unfolding of Becky's dual personality.

The company of actors presenting the play is, however, of such superior merit that one is tempted to forget the little lesson in abnormal psychology and enjoy the acting.

WELSH TO GET LABOR DAY DATE WITH CHAMP.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

PORTLAND, May 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Freddie Welsh gets the next chance at Willie Ritchie, lightweight champion of the world. His manager, Billy Nolan, arrived in this city today for a week's theatrical engagement. Their coming to Portland was arranged to meet Freddie Welsh, champion of England, on Labor Day. In case the death of Luther McCarty causes this match to be cancelled, Nolan says that he has promised to give Welsh first chance at the title and the match will be arranged for a later date.

WRESTLERS TO MEET TONIGHT.

Dan McLeod Will Tackle Ajax, Lithuanian.

Youth at Twenty-three Vs. Science at Fifty-four.

Revival of Old Game at the Athletic Club.

When I meet Dan McLeod tonight in the Los Angeles Athletic Club I will take the light heavyweight championship of the wrestling world away from him in two straight falls.

This was the statement made last night by Tony Ajax, the powerful Lithuanian who has challenged the veteran to a contest for the crown which he has worn so long.

Though strong, self-reliant and 25, Ajax is a cunning and cunning, clever, sagacious man. Dan at 54, youth thinks, should be easy.

Anyway, it will be a battle to the death, best two falls out of three, with the strange and too hold barred. This is the first time that the two hold has been officially barred at a wrestling match of championship caliber, the action being taken by the board of directors of the Los Angeles Athletic Club, directly after the Holler-Demeter match.

The contest is to be open to the general public and tickets are on sale at L.A.A.C. building, Seventh and Olive streets. In addition to the light heavyweight event, there is a second main event and there will be a good preliminary, besides.

The second main event promises to be a bumper, J. R. Crawford, champion of the Pacific Coast, will meet Charpale for the title.

That the match is regarded as one of the most important ever held on the Coast is attested by the fact that already 750 challenges have been received.

San Jose Marathon Promotes Foot Race and Good Sport—Many Fine Prizes Offered.

SANTA MONICA, May 26.—(Exclusive Dispatch.)

The marathon race to be held Friday, Memorial Day, over the nine-mile Santa Monica race course was completed last night, a brilliant array of young talent showing for the two classic events.

Barry Nash and Carl Schader, who are arranging for the events, have made all arrangements for the finest event of the kind ever held here. The two fine cups and other medals offered have gathered old and young alike to get into training for the race.

The entries, which are limited to Santa Monica, Santa Monica Park or Venice athletes, are as follows:

Nine-mile race, 16 years and over—Cameron, Penn, Wilbur, Peterman, Richard Randall, Merritt Van Sant, Robert Gillis, Carl Wilber, Marshall Higgins, Leonard Little, James Pollock, Will Johnson and Glenn Anderson.

Three-mile race, under 16 years—Lawrence Jackson, Forrest Stephens, Roy O'Connell, William Harrison, Joseph Davis, Dorcas Briggs, Bart Foster, F. J. Townsend, J. R. Fox, Ray Little, Ray McKenna and Trinidad Edwards.

Yesterday accepting the offer to fight Willie Ritchie, July 4.

Joe, however, is thinking more of real estate than fights.

Yesterday little Joe came rushing into a cafe where Joe Levy and McLeod were at lunch, and dragged his manager out by the collar.

"Joe," he said, "I have found the biggest real estate bargain you ever heard of in your life. I want you to come with me and see the fellow down a little further."

Next week Ritchie and his bride will leave for Wheeler's Springs, where they will spend the time until it becomes necessary for Ritchie to begin training for his July 4 fight.

Mandot May Quit.

Joe Mandot is utterly disheartened over his defeat by Bud Anderson.

"I was going back home to New Orleans," said Joe yesterday, "but I have changed my mind. I am going to rent a little apartment at the north end of Santa Monica, away from all the rest of the fighters. We are not going to tell any one that I am a boxer and I don't want to hear a word about fights or boxing gloves all the rest of the summer. I don't want to see any fight."

"Some time, along next fall or next winter when I have recovered my strength, I am going to make one more effort. If I don't win that fight easily and decisively, it will be my last one."

"There ain't going to be any Bat Nelson stuff in my family. I ain't going to keep on getting my teeth knocked out and getting my lips cut."

BOSTON, May 26.—New York scored seven runs in the fourth inning of today's game and defeated Boston 7 to 3. Murray hit over the left field fence for a home run with none on in the fourth.

BEDIENT WINS PITCHERS' DUEL FOR WORLD'S CHAMPS

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK, May 26.—Bedient of the world's champions won a pitchers' battle from McConnell today. Boston defeated New York, 3 to 1. Both pitchers were very effective. New York made its only run in the first inning, when Harrell hit an infield single, stole second, and scored on Croe's single through the box. Boston won in the fourth, making two runs on singles by Yerkes and Speaker. Speaker's steal, Derick's fumble of Harrell's drive, and Jarvin's sacrifice fly. In the ninth Boston scored again on Ennis's triple and an error.

Score.	Boston.	N. Y.	P.	A.	E.
Runs	3	1
Hits	10	8
Errors	1	2
Left on base	10	8
Strikes	10	8
Ball	10	8
Time	1:45	1:45

Up and have people say: "Poor old Joe." The day I quit being a regular live one, that's the day I stop fighting.

"I always hoped that I would win the championship of the world some day, but I am getting discouraged."

"I've got a little money and I've turned it over to my wife. When I want a dollar or so I ask her for it. She's the treasurer of our family. I have enough to live on and if I don't make good in my next fight I'll go into some business and, with her help, make good in some other line."

Mandot's Prediction.

Mandot, having fought them all, ought to be able to see with a prophetic eye all the coming battles.

"He thinks that Ritchie should beat Ritchie, although it will be a very doubtful fight. Leach Croe, he thinks, is likely to end the career of Bud Anderson by his tremendous power to hit."

"If that New York Jew lands just once on any one, he is a sure winner," said Joe's manager, Tommy Walsh.

Bud Will Be Champ.

Jimmy Dunn, manager of Johnny Kilbane, and, perhaps, the greatest expert on boxing now connected with the ring, prophesies that Bud Anderson will be the lightweight champion of the world.

"I think he'll just about murder Leach Croe," said Jimmy, "and Brother Rivers had better stay away from him as far as possible. Bud can hit any of them. That boy's power to hit is something terrific. Also he can take punishment like Jim Flynn. Mandot knows that he will be from the bucket at him the other night and they didn't even make him hesitate."

"At that, Bud doesn't know how to hit. If he learned how to deliver a blow correctly he could knock the head off any lightweight in the world."

Foxy Ambitions.

Foxy Brannigan, who claims to have fought 200 times without losing a decision or being knocked out, wants to fight Eddie Campi here.

LONGER TO GO NORTH.

Ludy Langer, pride of the South in general and of Redondo Beach in particular, is to tear himself away from these parts in August and roam to the north coast of California.

Langer, who has won the intercollegiate swimming championship of California for three years, has decided to cast his lot in with California and will certainly be a big boost to the swimming team of the University of California.

THE SURE ODDS for the race where old Cap Dillon and his vines hang out. With thrushes of 272, Los Angeles chances to pull away from the others entered in the race.

The captain himself is in the line with a pedigree of 484, based on the openers out of twenty-four choices. Magner, Harkness and Page are a few, all punching about 350 feet.

Every member of the angelic band is on the map with the exception of Harkness, who secured the time he handled in 1917.

GABY HELPS EVELYN GET STAGE JOB IN LONDON.

By GARDNER BRADFORD.

WILL RENAISSANCE never come? Only the other day I told of the coming of Anna Held, Gertrude Hoffman, Eva Thayer and Gaby, and now I learn that Evelyn Thayer is going back on the stage.

And that that is anything unusual, she should wait a long. What were the folk in the announcement that she would make her appearance at the Lyceum?

Just had time to run in and say hello to Violet McMillan, who is at the Lyceum this week. First time I had seen her since "The Time, the Place and the Girl."

That's some time ago and since then she has married and done all sorts of things. Miss McMillan is credited with possessing the smallest feet in vaudeville, is a regular Cinderella girl, in fact, but for that matter she's almost the fattest girl, so why shouldn't she have a distinctive title?

Julia Ring is headed this way. Frances is almost here, as if Blanche would just happen in—but then, perhaps we can ring in some one else.

Jack Burroughs has secured a condensed version of "Anastasi" and is doing to try his hand at vaudeville.

"Anastasi" sounds like a tooth wash, but it isn't anything of the kind.

Maclyn Arbuckle, they tell me, is going into musical comedy this fall. Wonder if he is going to set his famous line, "Nobody loves a fat man," to music.

James T. Powers is going to revive the "Gaiety" next season, which leads me to ask what has become of Marie Celeste?

The Orpheum and the Empress are carrying on the vaudeville war with a vengeance. Not content with playing "The New Leader" a week apart, they now have identical Arab acts on their bills. The rival managers have both agreed to do my little skit, "The Time, the Place and the Girl," to see both acts and make a comparison.

"The Woman" is giving a great personal triumph for Frances Starr. She makes a great Wanda Kelly.

What a pity they didn't get Wilton Lackaye for the cast of Rocky. He and John Mason could have had a lovely time hypnotizing each other.

Charlie Ryeon and Charlie Ruggles yesterday upset the handball championship at the Los Angeles Athletic Club.

They stepped onto the court and beat the headliners by absurd scores. Charlie is getting into condition to referee tonight's wrestling bout.

How About It?

INFELDERS CAN BE JUDGED BY WAY THEY SHIFT HANDS

WHAT makes a great infelder? The fan will say it is ability to cover ground, take difficult balls, hit well, run the bases with speed and keep alive to the teamwork on the defense.

Ball players will tell you, "A good infelder of hands." The great ball fielding secret is ability to shift hands, and Eddie Grant, the great fielding third baseman under Jim Thayer, can switch his hands faster than any infelder in the business. He is a regular Herman the Great when it comes to proving that the hands are faster than the eyes.

The position of the hands in catching a ball makes all the difference in the world, and there are two principal ways to make a catch. The hands are held one way for balls above the waist and another way for those below the waist. Ball batted on the ground frequently takes eccentric "hops," and good infelders change their hands rapidly to make the stop and throw. The man who cannot shift his hands rapidly works under a big handicap. Ever since he broke into the big show Grant has been rated one of the best fielding third basemen living, and the difference in his work and that of others is largely in the speed with which his hands move.

Grant is a wonder at playing ground balls that bound badly. His hands are never in an awkward position when he grabs the ball and rarely does he carry an injured finger.

GILHOUSEN TELLS FINE POINTS OF MARMON WASP.

LARK GILHOUSEN, agent for the Marmon and the Marston, is one of the well-known local dealers who thinks the Indianapolis race this week will be worth seeing. Agent Gilhouseen says the Marmon "Wasp" with that great race. His ideas of what a racer should be built are of special interest just at this time when the sports are watching the drive from race horse.

In view of the many reports concerning the foreign speed monsters to be entered in the third 100-mile race May 30, it is interesting to note the points of the racing bodies designed ahead for the event. With the exception that according to the rules of the contest, each driver is forced to carry a mechanic, which necessitates a spare car, the body designs of the foreign cars are similar in nearly every detail to the body design of the Marmon six-cylinder "Wasp," which won the first 100-mile race in May, 1917.

At the time the Marmon six first made its appearance it aroused a storm of comment from racing fans because of its peculiar "tail" or tapering body in the rear. Now, when expert body designers across the Atlantic are making a big point of the "stream line" body with the idea of decreasing air resistance, the design of the famous Marmon car becomes of special interest.

The English Talbot car, which established the record of 193.8 miles in one hour on the Brooklands track last February, is almost identical in body construction with the Marmon "Wasp." It has but one seat for the driver and the steering column is located in the center of the car. There is a tapering tail in the rear of the driver's seat and even the wedge-shaped axle and tapering differential housing being changed or on the same one Marmon car of three seasons ago. The new design is almost an exact reproduction of the car used on the Marmon race in the 1917 Vanderbilt.

The Peugeot entries also follow much the same lines in body design and even their remarkable record posted recently on the Brooklands track, are making valuable use of the stream line body by decreasing wind resistance. It must not be expected, however, that the foreign cars can duplicate their Brooklands speed records on a track made for long-distance racing, such as the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, as the turns are not banked nearly so high as the English speed track.

Such a track as the Indianapolis Speedway, however, gives a much better chance to judge the car as to performance on the road. The Marmon "Wasp" and many other American cars which have developed a speed in excess of 100 miles an hour on the road have been able to hold within striking distance of this average after negotiating the turns in the big two and one-half-mile oval.

OWLS AND APES MEET. This afternoon the Occidental College athletic field will be the scene of the annual baseball game between the Apes and the Owls, the two Tiger fraternities. Last year the custom was inaugurated of having each frat pick the team of the opposing frat and the game proved to be such a success that it is continued this time. Last year with the score 22 to 9 against them in the last half of the ninth the Apes made a hair-raising finish and scored ten runs by devious means. This year Marmon, who will pitch for the Apes with Edwin Mullinger, familiarly known as "Moe," wielding the big mitt. Marmon has a record of 100 wins and is a Socialist at election time and he is liable to at least kill off a few of the enemy. Howard Angus, batter, and "Red" Jones, who is to be on the points for the Owls and promise to make their exhibition of the national pastime very scientific.

RUSSIAN MAR THOUGHT. Bill Ruess tried out his new motorboat Popo-Hartford on Sunday, but some little engine trouble developed. This is only a minor matter, however, and Bill expects to have it adjusted this week.

BANKERS' ROUT.

Financial Nabobs Invite Traffic Men to Witness Boxing Show at Executive Club.

For the second time within a month, the boxing game invades the local bankers clubhouse on Hope street.

A few weeks ago Harry Burns put on a ring show for the bankers and the "Gaiety" next season, which leads me to ask what has become of Marie Celeste?

Among the boys who are to perform for the entertainment of the exclusive crowd are Jim Percy, Ray Rivers, Joe Lang, Young Rivers, Matty Steel and possibly Charley James.

LETTERS GIVEN OUT. The athletic of Occidental College are to get their hard-earned laurels tomorrow morning at chapel, when they will be presented with letters, medals, pins and all other insignia won during the year. The State championship football squad have already received their sweaters, but the track and baseball squads will receive their letters, the debaters will get their pins, and even the glee club will come in for a prize.

The college is looking for a number of new athletes with the present graduating class and a big audience is expected to see them get their last honors from the student body. Drury Wiseman, Duffy Seay, Chester Bradbeer, Bruce Hill, Leon Yakel, Bill Percival, Ed. Brier, Win Mount and Howard Angus will be among those graduating with the class.

TENNIS ON FRIDAY. The San Gabriel Country Club is to have a two-day tennis tournament on Friday and Saturday of this week, beginning at 10 o'clock Friday morning.

REPEATED. Really laughable and entertaining farce skills for two are as scarce in vaudeville as hen's teeth in a butcher shop. Once in a blue moon some one takes one along. Though Mark Murphy and his spouse have brought one to the Empress. They call it "The Coal Strike," and of course these seasoned and experienced comedians make it go with happy-go-lucky ease, bringing in a dozen laughs or more every minute. Murphy's smile is as natural as sunshine, his face is as wholesome as a sprig of shamrock. And yet, his wife is almost the whole thing in that cheerful partnership. Why? Well, go and see why.

Alvin Aronson, who has already been described, (See article above.) They are eleven as lively and radiant a bunch of acrobats as you could possibly want to see and hear. They're all to the good.

Bernard A. Rackett presents an amusing song skit entitled, "Richard Carl in Vaudeville," taking off some of Carl's jokes, ditties and mannerisms, very cleverly. Another singer, a pretty one, is Marie LaVarra, who has blonde hair, blue eyes of a business, and a voice of phenomenal range, and a voice of her car is slightly defective—musically, that is to say, for otherwise it is as perfect as a little pink sea.

This machine does something that only the brain, directing the hand, has hitherto been able to do—that is, write and add (or subtract) on the same page.

But this is not all. It does such work more easily, more rapidly, and more accurately than the human brain has ever performed similar labor.

Thus the machine is human in what it does and super-human in the way it does it.

MORE RANGERS ARE NEEDED.

Pasadena Board of Trade Declares Ten Necessary.

Man Feigns Faint and Secures Easy Money.

Will Suspend All Business on Memorial Day.

PASADENA, May 27.—That at least ten city forest rangers are needed to protect the municipal watershed from fire during the summer months, instead of the four now provided, is the substance of a resolution adopted at the annual meeting of the Board of Directors last night at the board room. It was introduced by T. P. Lukens and the recommendation it carries is that not less than ten rangers be placed on the watershed and that their salaries be paid by the city.

Another resolution was adopted. It was introduced by C. D. Daggett and was a vote of thanks to the Water Committee of the Board of Trade for the work it did toward bringing about municipal ownership of water. The new board of directors of the organization elected last night is composed of W. F. Knight, T. P. Lukens, George J. Brunner, C. J. Hall, F. E. Wilcox, A. E. Edwards, and Robert A. Bower. All were re-elected except Brunner and Bower. They succeed C. P. Day and L. H. Turner.

Turner has refused re-election to the presidency and Knight, who is now vice-president, will probably be named. The officers will be elected by the directors at an early date.

In recognition of his services during the past year, A. J. Bertoneau, secretary of the organization, was voted a vacation in order that he might go to Portland to attend the annual meeting of the Board of Trade. There was a large attendance.

FEIGNING A FANT.

A man who succeeded in escaping the clutches of the law, and whose name was not known, was arrested by means of a ruse on churchgoers last Sunday by means of which he secured two square meals free of charge and a considerable sum of pocket money.

He went into the Universalist Church at the morning services and fell to the floor, apparently in a faint. As he was assisted to a seat, the pews he regained consciousness and said that he was starving to death, and that he had just left the city from Los Angeles. He secured a meal at a restaurant and about $1 in money from sympathetic persons. Later he went to the Christian Church, where at the evening service.

Members of the Pasadena Merchants' Association are respectfully requested to conform with article five of the by-laws of the organization by closing their respective places of business Friday, May 30, Memorial Day.

It is our duty to observe this day, sacred to the memory of the nation's soldier and sailor dead, and we therefore urge all merchants and business men to commemorate it by closing.

Members of John F. Godfrey Post, G.A.R., the Woman's Relief Corps and Ladies of the G.A.R. will be the guests of the Pasadena Club at the clubhouse this afternoon. Gen. F. R. Barry, commander of the Soldiers' Home at Santa Anita, will speak.

CITY BRIEFS.

Final preparations for the trip to Portland next month to boost Pasadena will be made at a banquet to be given by the Knights of the Rose Tournament at the Hotel Maryland at 10 o'clock tonight. Only the knights themselves will attend.

The rain that fell in Pasadena yesterday morning raised the precipitation figure for the season to .81 of an inch, making 17.16 inches for the year.

The Pasadena baseball team will play Long Beach in Pasadena this afternoon at 2 o'clock at Raymond Park.

The new Mexican settlement clubhouse at 417 South Broadway, which was established several days ago, will be open to public inspection today between 2 and 3 o'clock this afternoon and 8 and 9 o'clock tonight. It is established by several Pasadena persons, who a short time ago complained that the conditions in the neighborhood had become little better than those of a slum, many families being crowded together in small space.

G. W. Adams has been elected chairman and G. R. Sherwood secretary of a temporary organization that has been effected by Pasadena Civil War veterans, who expect to go to the semi-centennial meeting soon to be held at Gettysburg. A railway company has been appointed, consisting of John McDonald, M. J. Olds and C. O. Rasey. Another meeting will be called soon.

H. E. House, formerly secretary to Yuan Shih Kai, President of the Chinese republic, will speak on "Past and Present Conditions in China," at a meeting of the Men's Club at 8 o'clock at St. Vibiana's Cathedral, Second and Main streets, Los Angeles. Father Brady officiating, with interment following in Calvary Cemetery, Los Angeles. Collins was 42 years of age and a native of Minneapolis. He was accidentally drowned at Santa Monica last Saturday while walking along the wharves. He is survived by his father and mother, and two sisters, Mrs. E. A. Jones and Mrs. E. L. Woods, all of South Pasadena. Mr. Collins had lived in this city eight years.

WEST'S FINEST AVENUE FOR SANTA MONICA

SANTA MONICA, May 26.—Three bids for the proposed improvement of the highway from Santa Monica to the city of Los Angeles were received by the City Council last night and referred to the City Engineer, who is directed to check them and report at the next meeting.

Brown, Bryant & Austin of this city, M. S. & C. G. Cummings of Los Angeles and the Ira Hodson Company of Los Angeles are the bidders. The lowest figures appear to be those of the Ira Hodson Company, the total for the job, including ornamental lighting fixtures, being about $140,000.

City Attorney Taft and other officials said tonight that the recent project to improve the highway from Los Angeles to the sea, the shortest possible cut.

It is absolutely nothing in the way of starting in on the actual work at once. The Hodson company is composed of Ira Hodson, W. M. Murdock and B. F. Kennersly. Murdock said tonight that the company is prepared to show fully its ability to carry out the work, and expects it will be awarded the contract next week. The specifications call for a higher grade of paving than has ever been done on this coast, and the boulevard when finished will be the finest in the West. The work will require about six months. Before that time it is believed the Board of Supervisors will take up the matter of building an eighty-foot boulevard from Pico street to connect with Fremont avenue. This would make a magnificent link in the highway from the sea, the shortest possible cut.

Long Beach.

SPARK CAUSES AN EXPLOSION.

LONG BEACH SEWER PATROLMAN IS SERIOUSLY BURNED.

Gas Which Had Escaped from a Rusty Pipe Is Ignited When Metals Clash and the Explosion Was Heard Three Blocks Away—Boy Loses Eye in Peculiar Accident.

LONG BEACH, May 26.—R. H. Mitchell, sewer patrolman of the Board of Public Works, was seriously injured this afternoon by an explosion of sewer gas. Mitchell's face was burned raw, his mouth and hair singed off, and his left hand burned. The explosion was caused by a spark striking from the hook he was using to lift a manhole cover to flush the sewer.

Gas had collected, having come through an abandoned gas main under the sewer and escaping through a leak in rusty pipe. The cover was blown several feet by the explosion, which was heard three blocks away.

BOY LOSTS EYE.

Patrick Campbell, son of W. L. Campbell, was the victim of an accident today which will cost him his right eye, the accident being as peculiar as it was deplorable. Dr. Ray Townsend had offered to assist in giving a horse at the Campbell ranch medical care. He had lifted the animal's hind leg to lance it and signaled young Campbell to slide a box under him to sit upon. Just as the boy complied the horse gave a sudden kick, which sent the doctor tumbling over backward and as he fell his lance entered the lad's right eye, entirely destroying the sight. The boy's father, who has been ill, is almost prostrated over the accident.

VERSATILE CHARACTER.

Charles Ahens, picked up by the police, seems to be versatile in his occupations and professions. He is the officer that in flesh he is a detective and in spirit a preacher to all mankind. When in jail he is one of the officers and outside is of a different stripe. He is being held for investigation.

HOODLUMS ARRESTED.

Police detectives today rounded up a gang of hoodlums who yesterday amused themselves throwing rocks of pebbles and rocks at passing automobiles on the boulevard. J. C. Nixon was badly injured by one of the missiles.

WOMAN IN FORD NERVOUS.

Pair of Horses Blinded to Load of Cement Are Bumped by the Little Car.

SOUTH PASADENA, May 26.—What might have been a serious accident occurred this afternoon, when a Ford automobile driven by a woman ran into a team of horses drawing a wagon loaded with cement. The woman was driving east on Monterey road and the wagon coming south on Stratford avenue. Both stopped, but the driver of the wagon urged his horses forward, seeing that the automobile was not moving. Just as the horses were in front of the automobile, the woman evidently lost control of her machine, for it shot suddenly forward, running into the horses, badly frightening them, but they escaped without serious injury. The hood and lamp of the automobile were smashed. Both of the parties to the accident refused to give their names.

NEWS BRIEFS.

The funeral services of Thomas M. Collins, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Collins, No. 1845 Fletcher avenue, will occur Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock at St. Vibiana's Cathedral, Second and Main streets, Los Angeles.
